

Truman Urges U. S. Defense Secretary In Merger Plan

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP)—President Truman sent to Congress today the draft of a proposed bill calling for the unification of the armed forces.

The legislation would set up a national defense establishment, under a civilian secretary of national defense who would have cabinet rank.

The legislation would bring under the defense establishment equally important departments of the Army, the Navy and the Air Force.

Each of the three branches of the armed services would have a secretary to direct its activities as an individual unit. The three secretaries—for Army, Navy and Air Force—in turn would operate under direction of the Secretary of National Defense.

Solves Unification

While all four secretaries would be subject to confirmation by the Senate, the White House said only the Secretary of National Defense would have cabinet rank.

The President, in a letter submitting the proposed legislation, informed Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) presiding officer of the Senate, and Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) of the House:

"It is my belief that this suggested legislation accomplishes the desired unification of the services and I heartily recommend its enactment by the Congress."

The draft, entitled "National Security Act of 1947," was completed by Clark M. Clifford, the President's special counsel, after lengthy consultations with the secretaries of War and Navy and the joint chiefs of staff, all of whom, Mr. Truman said, approved the bill.

Air Chief Of Staff

Under the measure, the United States Air Force would be established under the Department of the Air Force to which would be transferred the Army Air Forces, the Air Corps of the United States Army, and General Headquarters Air Force (Air Force Combat Command).

The President would appoint, subject to Senate confirmation, a chief of staff of the Air Force for a term of four years. The functions of the commanding general of the Air Force Combat Command, the chief of the Air Corps, and the commanding general of the Army Air Forces would be transferred to this chief of staff.

The legislation sets up within the national defense establishment the joint chiefs of staff, to be made up of the chief of staff of the United States Army, the chief of Naval operations, the chief of staff of the United States Air Forces, and the chief of staff to the commander-in-chief "if there be one."

Military Adviser

This joint command would act as principal military adviser to the President and the Secretary of National Defense, preparing strategic plans and providing for strategic direction of the military forces.

While the secretaries of the Army, the Navy and the Department of the Air Force would function under the overall direction of the Secretary of National Defense, the legislation provides that any of the three may appeal directly to the President, after informing the National Defense secretary of any matter he wishes to take up with the White House.

Italians Fleeing From Eruption Of Mount Etna

Rome, Feb. 26 (AP)—Italians were reported fleeing today before a massive flow of lava pouring from the crater of Mount Etna after the Sicilian volcano's first notable eruption since 1928, when it destroyed the village of Mascali.

Slight manifestations occurred January 30 and February 11 this year. The eruption which began yesterday reached proportions the seriousness of which could not be fully ascertained at once because of clouds of smoke obscuring observation.

Dispatches from Catania, however, said that after 20 hours of eruption lava had covered an area of about a mile and a half on a front of about 165 yards. The eruption was still continuing.

A Catania dispatch to the Rome newspaper Risorgimento said that flashes of flame were first observed at noon Monday on the north slope of Mount Etna, midway between Mt. Cacciatore and Mt. Timpanessa.

HIGHWAY DEPT. CONTINUES ROAD CLEARING WORK

The state highway department cast a weary eye at the weather today and then expressed the hope that it might, at long last, be able to get at the many secondary roads that up to the present have not been touched by a snow plow.

With no major drifting over the night and with only one major road—the one south of Idaville—still completely closed, the men operating the 26 pieces of equipment now in operation hoped to be able to get a little ahead today in the week-old battle of the blizzard.

The Idaville road was scheduled to be open—one lane at least—by this afternoon, and it would probably remain one lane as are the Biglerville-Gettysburg road, the Arundelville-Gettysburg road and a number of others in the county, for several days.

Mail Routes Shortened

Big job ahead of the workmen today was the cleaning of those roads that have not yet been touched by the men who fought through day and night to keep the main routes open during the snow storm and the heavy drifting that followed.

Rural mail carriers from the Gettysburg post office hoped today to reach many of their customers who have been without mail since Thursday, but final reports were not expected to be in until the carriers return this afternoon.

Fairfield high school, which has been closed since the storm last week remained closed again today and many country children were still absent from their school desks.

Many rural schools were believed to be still closed, but no information had been received so far by the county superintendent's office concerning the schools and the roads leading from main highways back to the more rural schools were still impassable.

138 APPEARED BEFORE COURT DURING 1946

A total of 138 defendants faced the Adams county court of common pleas during 1946, on a variety of charges ranging from robbery, aggravated assault and battery and burglary, to desertion and non-support. The latter cases were in the majority, according to the criminal statistics report for last year released today by Mrs. Emma Sheffer, clerk of courts.

The number of defendants was more for 1946 than were reported during 1945 or 1944, statistics show. Total number of defendants to face court in 1944 was 110 and 109 in 1945.

Ten cases were dismissed last year compared with 12 in 1945 and 15 in 1944. Last year, the report shows, there were only three acquittals, one by the court and two by jury. In each of the two preceding years there were eight acquittals. In 1945 three were by juries and five by the court. All eight in 1944 were jury acquittals.

Many Desertion Cases

Desertion and non-support cases were the most numerous, 32 defendants being listed under this heading on the report. Three of these were dismissed, and 29 others found guilty by the court.

There were no murder or manslaughter cases in the court last year, and only one defendant charged with robbery. Other offenses and the number of defendants in each were: aggravated assault, three; minor assault, 16; burglary, breaking and entering, 12.

Yank Veteran Acts As Midwife

Fritzlar, Germany, Feb. 26 (AP)—A veteran American soldier acted as midwife on a dark, snow-covered Fritzlar street, it was disclosed today.

A German woman, Mrs. Thea Ziegelmayer, 25, and her husband were a block away from a maternity home last Friday night when she was overcome by pains.

Edward G. Averell of Pittsburgh, Pa., a veteran of eight years in the army, was passing by and volunteered his help.

After arrival of a lusty son, Mrs. Ziegelmayer was removed to the home. She said Averell's quick aid "saved two lives."

BRING PAIR HERE ON FRAUD COUNT

Harry S. Zimmerman, of Allentown, and David R. Reside, of Philadelphia, who Tuesday morning were granted commutation of sentences from the Franklin county jail by Governor James Duff, were turned over Tuesday evening to Adams county authorities who had previously lodged a detainer for the two men.

Found guilty in Franklin county court in 1945 of charges of cheating by fraudulent pretense, Zimmerman and Reside were sentenced to 2 1/2-year terms in the Franklin county jail—Zimmerman's sentence dating from March 7, 1945, and Reside's from February 17, 1945. The men were accused of fleeing an aged Antrim township man in a bogus real estate deal.

Commutation of the sentences of the men were granted by Governor Duff, county officials explained, because both men had served their minimum sentences, less time deducted for "good behavior."

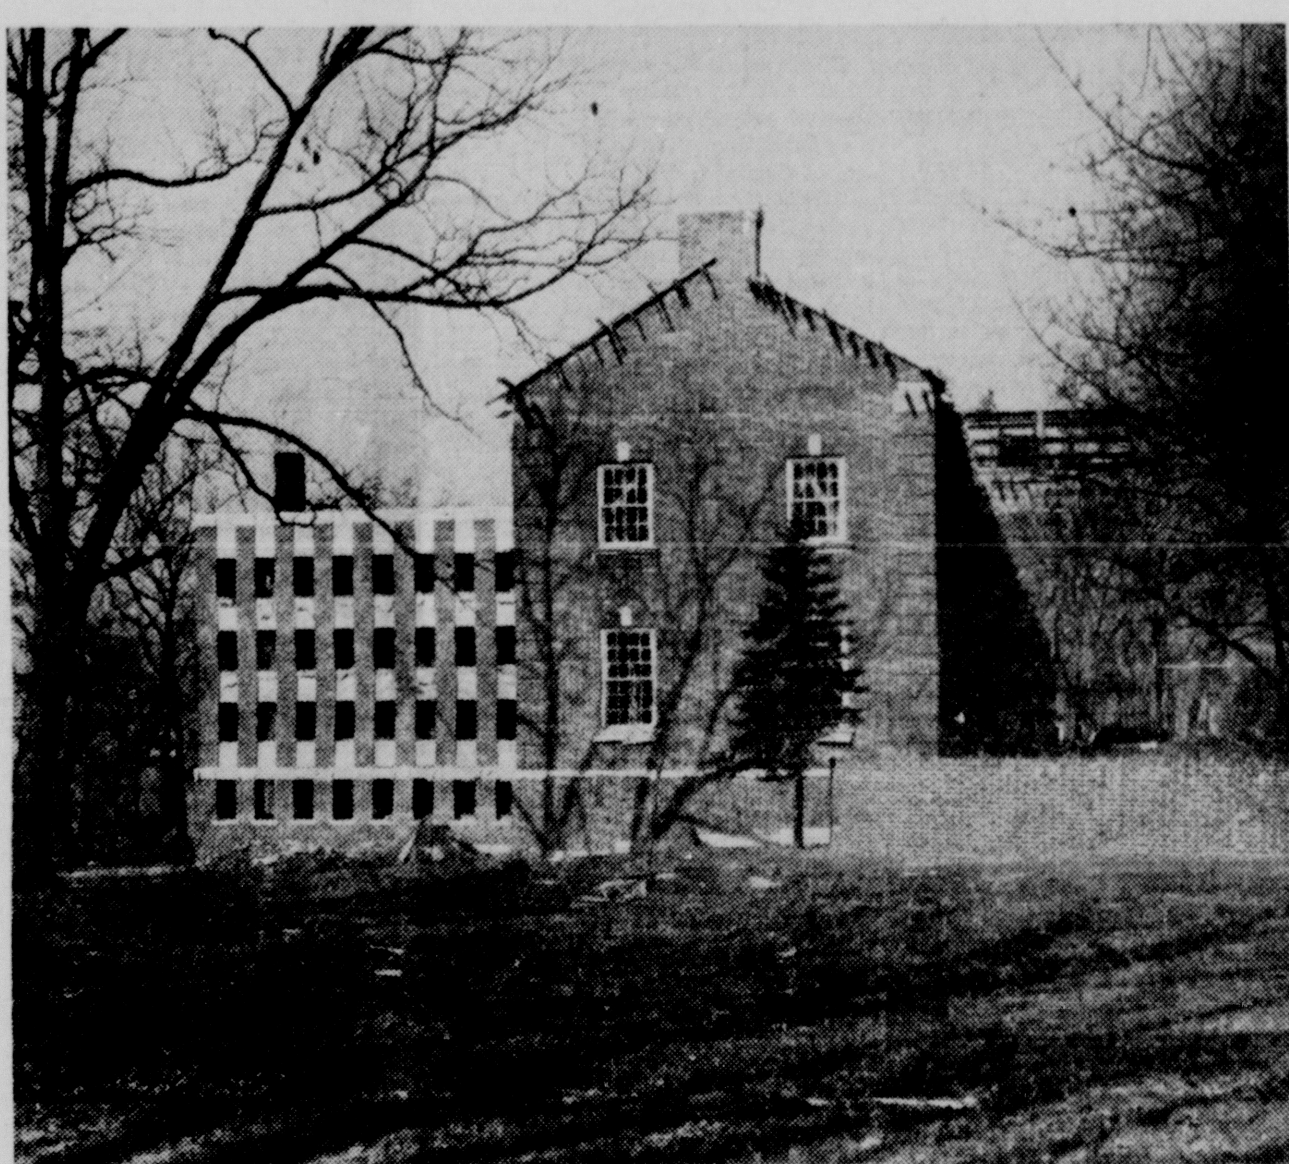

Zimmerman and Reside face similar charges in Adams county. Other counties, including York and Lancaster, also filed detainers for the two men on fraudulent pretense charges, and these detainers accompanied the prisoners to Gettysburg.

Zimmerman and Reside have been charged locally by Leo Frommeyer, Bonneauville, with cheating by false pretense in connection with the sale of some 50 acres of land in West Virginia to Frommeyer. The land was apparently owned at the time of sale by Reside who is said by Frommeyer to have claimed there was coal on the property.

Weather Forecast

$210,000 Lutheran Seminary Library

Above are shown two views of the construction progress of the $210,000 library of the Lutheran Theological Seminary being erected on Seminary Ridge opposite the Administration building.

The top photograph shows the front of the new structure which is 124 feet wide, 34 feet deep and 34 feet to the eaves. The steel girders that extend over the building will help support four fluted columns of Indiana limestone.

The lower photograph shows a side view of the library with the stacks annex in the rear where most of the 110,000 volumes will be shelved. The annex which adjoins the building is 60 by 30 feet.

The building is of fireproof brick construction, colonial in design as a fit companion piece for The Church of the Abiding Presence, the recently completed seminary chapel.

There will be fireproof rooms for the seminary's historical collection; twelve study rooms; rooms for art displays; a large reading room to seat 48 readers or students and a periodical room for current literature.

The new structure is expected to be completed in early autumn at which time dedicatory exercises will be held.

SOROPTIMISTS ARE HOSTS AT FORMAL DINNER

The Soroptimist club entertained at a formal "Soropti-Mister" dinner at Hotel Gettysburg Tuesday evening with husbands and friends as guests. Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler served as toastmaster.

The grace was given by Mrs. Violet Hill. A quartette of Gettysburg college men, Richard Patterson, Robert Logan, Hubert Brandenburg and Edgar Raffensperger, gave a number of selections during the evening and led in group singing. Members pinned red carnations on their guests while the quartette sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Mrs. Fred Segal gave a reading entitled "Men."

Robert B. Rau, assistant to Dr. Hanson, was the speaker using the topic "Second Hand Living." He said many people prefer attending book review circles rather than enjoying literature first-hand; they listen to radio and victrola and have none of the joy of making their own music; they buy their art craft instead of creating their own. It was his opinion that too many people these days are either afraid to live their own lives or are too lethargic to do more than to hear about other people's lives. He urged the group to do first-hand living.

Forty people were in attendance at the affair which was in charge (Please Turn to Page 2)

M'Nair, College Grad, Out For President In '48

Sixty-year-old William N. McNair, former mayor of Gettysburg and graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1900, says he will seek the Democratic nomination for President of the United States, according to an Associated Press dispatch today from Pittsburgh.

The zealous single-taxer was quoted as having told a reporter in Pittsburgh Tuesday night: "I'm tired of reading about Republicans for President. We ought to have some Democrats out."

The ex-mayor said he would run on a platform "no other candidate—Democrat or Republican—can dare discuss." He wants to: (1) Return to the gold standard, (2) Abolish tariffs, (3) Permit unrestricted immigration, and (4) establish the single-tax as the law of the land.

McNair was nominated as Pennsylvania's Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate in 1928. He lost to Republican David A. Reed but became the first Democrat ever to poll 1,000,000 votes in the Keystone State.

When he was named Pittsburgh's mayor in 1934 he captured an office the GOP had held for 25 years. He resigned in 1936.

DRIVER IS HELD RESPONSIBLE IN HIGHWAY DEATH

A York county coroner's jury, at Hanover Tuesday evening found Wesley C. Ingram, Catonsville, Md., "directly responsible" in the auto crash death of Gloria E. Myers, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon S. Myers, Hanover.

The inquest was held to investigate the accident January 26, 1947, in which cars operated by Miss Myers and Ingram collided 2.4 miles east of Littlestown on the Hanover-Littlestown road. The Hanover girl died the following day at the Hanover hospital with York County Coroner Lester G. Sell stating that death was due to a fractured skull, crushed chest, and internal injuries.

State Policeman Frank Yercavage, of the Gettysburg sub-station, who investigated the accident, appeared at the inquest Tuesday evening along with a member of Miss Myers' family who was an occupant of the jeep she was driving at the time of the crash. Miss Myers' sister, Mary, 14, suffered a laceration of the scalp; her mother, Mrs. Pauline Myers, laceration of the hands and contusions of the leg, and a brother, Richard, 3, received a laceration of the forehead in the same accident.

Henry M. Scharf Addresses Greeters

Henry M. Scharf, manager of the Hotel Gettysburg, was one of three speakers at the meeting of Charter 41, Hotel Greeters of America, at Allenberry, near Boiling Springs, Tuesday afternoon. Other speakers were Dr. William W. Edel, President of Dickinson college and Joe Crowe, International President of the Greeters, of Spokane, Wash.

Mr. Scharf's subject was: "Just Plain Common Sense."

More than 150 Greeters were present at the all day session.

EDWARD REBERT DIES SUDDENLY TUESDAY AT 71

Edward W. Rebert, 71, died suddenly at his home, 112 Hanover street, Tuesday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. Death was caused, Adams County Coroner C. G. Crist said, by a coronary occlusion.

Mr. Rebert had been ill since Friday and had consulted a doctor but was about the house as usual Tuesday morning, according to the family.

About 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning he told his wife, the former Bertha J. Hummer, that he was going to lie down for awhile. She called him for lunch at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and not receiving an answer went to investigate. She found him dead. Doctor Crist said that death had occurred about a half hour prior to the discovery.

Services Saturday

A son of the late Amos and Elizabeth Hartman Rebert, he worked for the last three years at the Gettysburg furniture company. Prior to that he was a farmer on the Milane farm near Guernsey.

Surviving are his wife and the following children: Edward J. Rebert, Chicago; Mrs. Edwin W. Lawver, Gettysburg; Clare R. Rebert, Middletown and Miss Vivienne Rebert, New York city. Also surviving are three grandchildren and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Minnie Basehore, Gettysburg; William O. Rebert, Gettysburg; Miss Mae Rebert, Gettysburg; and Mrs. Annie Bucher, McKnightstown.

Another Blizzard, Worst In Years, Strikes England

London, Feb. 26 (AP)—A great new blizzard, the most severe in years, worsened the British fuel crisis today, isolating hundreds of villages and shutting down scores of industries.

The storm was centered in northern England and Wales, tumbling temperatures to around zero Fahrenheit and piling up to 15 inches of snow on that which had fallen before. Highways and railways to the coal mines were blocked.

Thousands of industrial workers were storm bound. Even some larger towns, such as Newcastle and Sunderland, were isolated. The factory city of Leeds reported the worst weather in 15 years.

The mercury dropped to as low as ten below zero on the northern

SCHOOLMEN TO SUPPORT BOOST IN TEACHER PAY

Adams county's school heads voted Tuesday night to join with the county's school teachers in an effort to enlist the support of as many county organizations as possible in the fight to obtain higher salaries for the teachers.

That decision came at the end of a meeting of the Adams County Schoolmen's association, held at Gettysburg college, at which business men, teachers, and school board members joined in pointing out that the present teacher pay schedules are causing "difficulties in the profession and may lead to a complete breakdown of the American education system."

James C. Bush vice president of the York school board; Cyrus Bucher, of the C. H. Musselman company; J. Hoke Slaybaugh, Biglerville businessman; and Dr. Lloyd C. Kee-fauver, Gettysburg superintendent of schools, were among those who spoke at some length in outlining the "dangers to the school system inherent in the low salary structure for teachers."

Comparable Figures

Mr. Slaybaugh announced some figures given him by Chester A. Feig, head of the Department of Education at Lebanon Valley college, which disclosed that in 1945 the U. S. spent $7,700,000,000 for alcoholic beverages, or $55.65 per capita; $3,000,000,000 for tobacco or $21.40 per capita, and $2,500,000,000 for education, or $17.76 per capita.

Pointing out that there are not enough young people studying to be teachers to fill vacancies that will occur during the coming year, Slaybaugh added that "before World War I one teacher out of every 400 held substandard certificates and now one out of every seven hold such certificates. In Pennsylvania one in every ten holds a sub-standard certificate."

"On a national scale the U. S. is 125,000 teachers short, many schools are not in operation, thousands of children are not attending any school."

Lost Good Teachers

Continuing with Feig's figures, Slaybaugh pointed out that the "U. S. spends about 1.5 per cent of its national income for education, Great Britain three per cent and Soviet Russia eight per cent of its national income."

Asserting that Biglerville high school has lost at least six "of its best teachers" to industry within the past few years, Slaybaugh said that he was interested in bettering the salaries of teachers in order to get more qualified teachers and better educated "because I have two youngsters who will not be able to get good educations from the schools (Please Turn to Page 7)

4 CARS FIGURE IN TWO CRASHES

Two accidents occurred on Adams county highways Tuesday, the first motor crashes since before the snow storm.

H. Wilbur Pearson, New Cumberland, suffered a laceration of the left ankle Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in a collision one-half mile north of York Springs.

State police, who investigated, said that Paul Miller, Gettysburg R. 1, stopped at a signal from a flagman who was directing traffic behind a snow plow as it cleared the road in that section. W. Boyd Kline, Harrisburg, who was driving behind the Miller car failed to stop, police say, and crashed into the rear of (Please turn to Page 2)

NCCW TO HOLD BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR ORPHAN BOY

A birthday party for Charles Bolender, 13-year-old student at Paradise Protectors, will be conducted by the Gettysburg council of the National Council of Catholic Women in March. It was determined Tuesday evening at the February session of the local NCCW in St. Francis Xavier school.

A birthday cake will be baked for the orphan youth, whose birthday falls on March 6, by Mrs. George Groff. A $3 gift will be sent by the council and the members were urged to send him birthday cards.

Mrs. Ralph Johnson is in charge of reservations for the Day of Recollection to be held Sunday at McSherrytown, it was announced. Registration fee is 75 cents.

A card party will be held by the NCCW at the home of Mrs. Robert Redding, Chambersburg street Tuesday evening, March 4, at 8 o'clock and the local NCCW will pack a box to be sent to the newly opened Maryknoll mission in Bolivia. Members were urged to contribute household articles to the box.

A program including a play and a number of book reviews was presented. Miss Patricia Bushey and Miss Kay Coleman reviewed youth books and Mrs. William K. Sundermeyer reviewed the "Scrapbook Letters." She also displayed a number of books and book jackets in honor of Catholic book month.

A play, "The Juliet Cap of Anneke Bergen," written and directed by Mrs. Madeleine Killalea, a member of the local club, was presented with the following cast: Josephine Matthews, Meredith Derck, Richard Codori, Joseph Patrick Hamilton, Joseph Bushey, Charles Wagner, Anne Cullison, Jeanne Smith, Barbara Rider, Kay Coleman, Patricia Bushey, Margaret Holtzworth and Raymond Hardman.

Fire Company Gives Motorists Warning

The York Springs fire company, meeting Tuesday evening, decided to do nothing as a group concerning the parked car of William Newell, near Heidersburg, which Saturday blocked the York Springs fire truck from reaching a fire—but decided to issue a warning that in the future anyone parking on the highways will be prosecuted according to law.

Members of the company talking over the incident at the meeting concluded that Newell probably had assumed that on one else would be using the road because of the snow when he chained and padlocked his car at the end of the plowed section of the road.

When the fire company attempted to reach the burning home of George Sandoe Saturday evening the truck was blocked off from the fire by the car which was surrounded on each side by high banks where the snow had been pushed. Firemen could not move the vehicle and were unable to take their apparatus to the fire, they claim. Sunday morning, after Newell removed his car, trucks were able to get through the snow-laden road to the fire scene.

Gross Favors Aid For Mexican Cattle

Representative Chester H. Gross, of the York-Adams-Franklin district has urged congressional approval of a bill to make an initial appropriation to eradicate the hoof and mouth disease now widespread among Mexico cattle.

The bill, providing for cooperative action between the U. S. and Mexican governments, was brought to the House floor by the Committee on Agriculture of which Gross is a member.

Admitting that the proposal "will receive some criticism from people not familiar with the seriousness of the situation or the threat to our own livestock industry," the congressman urged quick action. The measure was approved by the House without a record vote.

Direct relief payments to needy residents of Adams county for the week ending February 21 totaled $641.70, a decrease of $47.20 from the previous week, according to a report of Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer. The payments were $135.90 more than the comparable week of a year ago.

WEATHER AIDS GAS SHORTAGE

Pittsburgh, Feb. 26 (AP)—Slightly higher temperatures resulted in some improvement of domestic gas supplies in western Pennsylvania today but did nothing to relieve the industrial fuel blackout which has made 50,000 workers idle for the second time in two weeks.

Fresh snowfall was followed by diminishing winds yesterday but the weather man said cold weather would continue today and tomorrow.

The U. S. Steel corporation laid off an additional 1,300, making a total of 6,000 idle at its plants. Another 6,000 men were idle at Allegheny-Ludlum Steel corporation mills, and some 350 other plants in the area laid off other thousands.

U. S. Steel said the Wheel division of the Wheel and Axle Works at McKees Rocks and six rolling mills were shut down yesterday. The entire McKees Rocks works and 16 open hearths, 11 major rolling mills, three rod mills and several finishing departments of U. S. Steel plants are now closed.

Auto clubs warned that yesterday's new snow, ranging from one to six inches throughout western Pennsylvania, had created new high-way hazards.

SAYS ARMY IS BLOCKING GUARD

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP)—Major Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard association, accused the Army today of placing "every conceivable obstacle" in the way of reorganizing the state military units.

He declared the motive appears to be a plan to set up the organized reserve corps as "a great federal militia in competition with the National Guard."

Walsh, who is Minnesota adjutant general, made his assertions in an address prepared for the opening of a three day meeting of the adjutants general association, which he also heads.

The War Department's postwar defense plans contemplate a National guard of about 680,000 and an organized reserve corps of about 376,000. The ORC program includes tours of active duty and training periods in the field. The National Guard usually trains one night a week, with annual training exercises in the field.

Walsh said Lt. Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer of the Second Army area was the only one of the six army area commanders who heeded a recent directive by Secretary Patterson for all War Department agencies to swing their "full efforts" behind the National Guard reorganization.

DISCOUNT TALK OF HIGH PORK

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Agriculture Department today discounted talk of $1-a-pound pork chops with an assertion that housewives won't stand for it.

Skyrocketing hog prices merely reflect a seasonal decline in marketable animals, said Charles L. Harlan, department livestock price specialist.

And he told a reporter he expects consumer resistance—which means housewives with their dander up—to force a downturn in those prices soon.

Department economists held to their contention that food price levels reached their post-war peak last October, after most government controls were removed.

"It is possible that prices during the first half of the year may hold their own, or increase very slightly," said James P. Cavin, farm and food price economist. "But we can see no possibility of their climbing back to anywhere near the peak of last October."

Some foods already have declined in cost since the first of the year and further decreases are expected. In this class are fluid milk, butter, evaporated milk, dry milk, eggs, poultry, fresh and frozen fish, fresh and processed vegetables, and canned fruits.

News Briefs

Harrisburg, Feb. 26 (AP)—U. S. District Judge James Alger Fee dismissed today a motion of John Memolo, of Scranton, a co-defendant of former Judge Albert W. Johnson, to quash charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the United States against him.

Judge Fee at the same time ordered the striking of a similar motion filed for Capt. Albert W. Johnson, Jr., son of the former jurist, after defense attorney Charles J. Margiotti, asked to withdraw it.

Former Judge Johnson, Memolo, Capt. Johnson and three others go on trial here tomorrow on charges of conspiracy in connection with indictments originally returned by a federal grand jury.

Philadelphia, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. disclosed today that 36 Presbyteries had approved and 41 rejected a proposal to permit women to be ordained as pastors of the church. Five Presbyteries reported no action on the plan which was submitted for a vote by the 158th General Assembly at its meeting last May in Atlantic City, N. J.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 26 (AP)—Physicians attending the American Academy of Pediatrics convention here expressed belief today that in time pre-marital RH blood type examinations will be as routine as Wassermann tests.

But in the meantime, they said, don't worry over your baby developing the death-causing "RH factor," as the chances of it occurring are slim.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 26 (AP)—The number killed in Purdue university's bleacher collapse during the Purdue-Wisconsin basketball game Monday night rose to three today with the death of Theodore Nordquist, 25, of Gary. Nordquist was a senior and flew on 63 missions while an Army Air Force pilot in the last world war.

New York, Feb. 26 (AP)—Leading stocks encountered further selling in today's market. The list steadied at lower levels after an active opening. Attempts at recovery lifted a few issues but failed to attract a widespread following. Near the fourth hour declines of fractions to more than two points were in the majority.

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Warren R. Austin, United States delegate to the United Nations, as this country's representative on the U. N. commission for conventional armaments.

TWO FIREMEN HURT

New Castle, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—Two firemen were injured in battling a fire in the home of Miss Mabel Hammond on Neshannock avenue last night. Ray Hammond suffered a broken ankle in a jump from a smoke-filled second-story room. Hugh D. Horton suffered leg injuries in a fall over debris.

Mechanicsburg at Hershey.

Chambersburg high assured itself of at least a tie for first place in the second half race of the South Penn league by walloping the Gettysburg high Maroons Tuesday evening at Chambersburg 59-34.

Merle Leshar, Trojan center, ran wild in the second half and piled up a total of 20 points for the evening.

Coach Forney's lads trailed throughout. After holding their opponents to a 19-9 margin at half time, the Maroons wilted before the strong Trojan attack in a final two periods.

During the last half Joe Hess and Doc Cole were banished via the personal foul route but the issue was settled long before their ejection as Coach Schlichter's three-time champs clearly demonstrated their superiority.

The Maroon scrubs also received a shattering in the preliminary 26-17. Chambersburg ran up a 16-4 lead at half time and then breezed through comfortably with a flock of substitutes in action.

On Friday evening the Forney-men will close their season by meeting Shippensburg here. To date the Maroons have divided in 20 contests.

Middle Atlantic Playoffs Picked

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—Muhlenberg, Albright and La Salle college of Philadelphia are three of four schools who will participate in the Middle Atlantic states conference basketball playoff tourney starting March 14.

The fourth team will be either Swarthmore or Drexel Tech, representing the loop's southern division.

Muhlenberg, winner of the northern division crown, meets Albright, western section titlist, in one pairing. La Salle will play the southern division winner.

The winners of the March 14 games on the University of Delaware court at Newark, Del., will vie for the conference crown won last year by Lafayette.

La Salle, member of the loop, is not an active participant in the conference but was invited to participate in the playoffs.

Bullets In Home Final Tonight

Tonight the Gettysburg college cage team will ring down the curtain on its home season by clashing with the unpredictable Temple university dribblers.

With several starters injured or on the sick list, Coach "Hen" Bream may be forced to greatly alter his starting lineup. It is not expected that any of the strong junior varsity squad will be advanced for the game.

At 7 o'clock the reserves meet the strong York Junior college quintet.

Fans were warned today by Prof. C. E. Bilheimer, athletic director, that all roads through the campus are practically impassable due to snow and are advised to park their cars on nearby streets.

COURT TOURNEY PLANS SHAPING

New York, Feb. 26 (AP)—With West Virginia and Kentucky, two of the most powerful fives in the country, already in the fold, the National Invitational Basketball Tournament field for 1947 begins to shape up as one of the best since the 1938 inaugural.

The announcement of Kentucky's acceptance was made yesterday, thus assuring the tourney of its 1946 winner, now rated by many as the No. 1 outfit in the country. West Virginia was named Monday.

Six more teams will be picked to round out the eight-team field for the tourney starting March 15 at Madison Square Garden.

Regarded as in the running are Duquesne, only unbeaten college five in the country, Navy, Notre Dame, Syracuse, Rhode Island State, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, Muhlenberg, Bradley, Western Kentucky, Texas Wesleyan, Texas, City College of New York, St. John's of Brooklyn, Fordham, Long Island U., New York U., Santa Clara, North Carolina State, Arizona, St. Louis, Oklahoma and Missouri.

La Salle college of Philadelphia played host to Seton Hall and upset the New Jersey quintet, 54-46, to chalk up its 17th win in 22 games. It was Seton Hall's third loss of the season.

Four other Pennsylvania teams scored victories. Geneva college turned back Akron university on the Beaver Falls college's court, 70-68, scoring the winning points in the last minute of play.

Clarion State Teachers' whipped Grove City College, 50-43; Susquehanna trounced Elizabethtown, 75-53; Bloomsburg Teachers' edged West Chester Teachers', 57-54; Bethany college (W. Va.) stopped an invading California Teachers' quintet, 75-61; the University of Rochester scored its sixth straight triumph at the expense of Allegheny college, 60-45; Youngstown college defeated St. Vincent, 71-46.

Keath, who has led the pack since the season opened, scored 23 points in his only appearance last week to boost his total to 389, while Lord pushed 60 points through the hoops in three contests to climb to a total of 371.

Alliance's Don Asmanga tallied 44 points to deadlock Muhlenberg's Harry Donovan for third place at 291 points.

Paul Marcinin, of Moravian, turned in the best individual performance of the week, scoring 41 points against Drew, and grabbing fifth place with 285 points, three more than Westminster's Chet Dembinski, in sixth.

Dembinski held the foul throw lead with 89 conversions. Asmanga was second with 79 and Paul Coront, Lock Haven Teachers', third with 78. Keath's 156 baskets topped Lord's 150 by six.

In average, Keath led fifth 21.6 points per game.

Bob Voigts New Northwestern Coach

Evanston, Ill., Feb. 26 (AP)—Robert W. (Bob) Voigts, ranked as one of Northwestern University's greatest 11-star athletes, is the new football coach at his Alma Mater, the first alumnus mentor of the Wildcats since 1913.

Voigts, 31-year-old line coach of the Cleveland Browns of the all-America football conference, was named last night as head grid coach by the Northwestern board of trustees to succeed Lynn Waldorf who resigned 10 days ago to become head football coach at the University of California.

LINCOLN BOWS AT WAYNESBORO

Waynesboro junior high's dribblers took a pair of games from the Lincoln school cagers Tuesday evening at Waynesboro.

Coach Ulrich's varsity slipped behind 18-9, at half time and could not make any headway in the second half. Redding, Lincoln guard, topped the scorers with an even dozen points.

The Lincoln scrubs were completely outclassed in the preliminary contest and lost 26-6. Thompson's goal in the second period was the only field goal for the locals.

Tickets Available For Big Cage Tilt

Tickets for the Gettysburg Merchants-Chicago Crusaders basketball game to be played on the Gettysburg high school floor Saturday evening, March 15, have been placed on sale according to Dick Thompson, team manager.

Ducats are available at Green's Record shop, First National bank building, and the West Gettysburg Inn. Tickets may also be procured at Gettysburg high school from Joe Hess.

ARENDTSTVILLE UPSET BY E.B.

Coach Ivy Kopp's East Berlin high boys pulled a mild surprise Tuesday evening when they defeated the Arendtville high quintet 47-39 at East Berlin.

The defeat dropped the Apple Pickers two full games behind the leaders, Biglerville. A disastrous third period, in which they were outscored 13-2, was fatal to Arendtville. Singlety, top county league scorer, looped 18 points, while J. Myers accounted for 15 for the victors.

Arendtville's undefeated girls were also given a surprise when they were held to a 17-17 tie by East Berlin. Arendtville set the pace the first three periods but fell apart in the last quarter.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Property Sale: Dr. K. J. Grimm,
of Carlisle street, has purchased the property of Mrs. John Felty on Baltimore street. Possession will be given on April first.

Many at Last Service: C. A. Black-
more, superintendent of the Erie City Mission, who for the past ten days has been conducting a series of Deeper Life meetings at St. James Lutheran church, brought the services to a close Sunday evening before a capacity audience.

Mr. Blackmore was accompanied to Gettysburg by his son, Carl, who played the piano and assisted his father at many of the services.

Entertainers Score Big Hit: The Jolly Entertainers, a local colored organization, presented their annual play in Xavier Hall Friday evening for the benefit of AME Zion Church of Gettysburg before a fair sized audience. The first part of the show was a minstrel affair which was followed by specialty acts.

The biggest feature of the bill was "Those Four Boys from Harmony Land," a quartet, called upon repeatedly for encores, that was composed of Renold Barnes, Freeman Stanton, Clinton Carter and David Jones. James Forsett presented a very amusing monologue.

Other persons who took part in the program are: Wendell Barnes, Dangerfield Mitchell, John Lane,
Mrs. Freeman Stanton, Mrs. Mary
Penn, Jesse Washington, Miss Cora
Craig, Mrs. Raymond Adams and A.
J. Myers.

Community Has Been Organized:
Permanent organization was effected at an enthusiastic community meeting held Friday evening in the Biglerville high school auditorium when a constitution was adopted. There were one hundred representative citizens of Biglerville, Arendtsville, Brysonia and surrounding townships present at the meeting. G. W.
Koser was chosen as temporary president and M. Stockton as secretary.

President Koser outlined the work that had already been accomplished in the efforts to stage next fall a community fair which will include displays of farming implements, livestock and farm products and also the effort made in supporting greater community friendship and the support of those institutions which make up the community life.

Married in Parsonage: Miss Lavina Augusta Breach, daughter of Dr. A. C. Breach, of Harrisburg, and Guy Curtis McClellan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McClellan, of Fountain
Dale, were married in the Presbyterian parsonage Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock by Rev. W. C. Robinson. Dr. Breach witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. McClellan left for
Mr. McClellan's home at Fountain
Dale.

Masonic Honors for Henry Scharf: Full Masonic honors were paid to the memory of Henry Scharf, Sr., late manager of the Hotel Gettysburg, by Good Samaritan lodge No. 348,
P. and A. M., of Gettysburg, at the funeral held Tuesday afternoon. Mr.
Scharf died Saturday morning (February 18) after an illness of one year following a nervous breakdown. Rev. Harry Daniels conducted the services at the hotel.

The pallbearers were Harry Holtzworth, Alfred Holtzworth, Frank Hartman, R. P. Funkhouser, James
Caldwell and Charles W. Myers.

Local Members at Big Initiation: Eight members of the Benevolent
and Protective Order of Elks lodge, of this place, attended an initiation of between four and five hundred members of that organization at the Orpheum theatre, at Harrisburg
Monday evening.

Among the local Elks who witnessed the initiation were E. S. Faber, Charles Timmins, Charles Tate, Howard Lightner, R. P. Funkhouser, Clifford Bream, Ray Hoffman and Clarence Hellman.

Today's Talk

THE STRANGE VOYAGE OF WORDS

It is strange how words will fly when given adequate wings! There are thoughts, uttered or written thousands of years ago, that keep traveling—flying and settling all over this earth, in people's minds and hearts, in books, in mottoes, and cut into bronze and marble.

Over public buildings you read these words, on statues, and often you find them in the strangest of places—and people paying attention to them. Thinking about them, and often treasuring them in their memory. There are sentences and poems that I read in my youth that I committed to memory, and which stay with me, and often I, too, give them errands to run! As so many do.

What a multitude of wise and inspiring sayings travel under no other authority than merely "Author unknown" or "Anonymous." And in what strange places we find great books! I once read of a woman who went to Arizona for her health. She was very lonely but one day she stepped into a bookshop and there on the table was Kenneth Gram-ham's "Wind and the Willows." It was one of her favorite books, but seeing it out there gave her a wonderful lift—like meeting an old friend. Books are like that.

Quotations from Shakespeare, the Bible, Don Quixote, Emerson's essays, Thoreau, and endless other great books, leave their original nests and fly to all parts of the world, and take lodging in millions of minds. How strange is the continual voyage of words! Many an interested reader has been led to the original nests of these words just from a mere quotation.

We never know where anything that we write or say is going to find lodging. How often, in traveling, I meet people who take from their pocket some saying that they have treasured! In my own pocket such items are always to be found—many worn and frayed. Yet treasured just the same.

Words are the architectural tools
of the mind, but in the soul of a poet
they become both brush and paint, leaving to all present life, and to posterity, undying masterpieces of beauty, fadeless and eternal.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Too Much Talk."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST
The Poet of the People
MEETING AT TABLE

We had never met each other;
We had judged from what we'd heard.

We were merely names connected with events which had occurred.
Each had voiced his firm opinion that the other must be wrong.
And we fancied with that notion
we could never get along.
But, we met one day at luncheon,
side by side at table sat.
And we smiled at one another and we talked of this and that.

He told about his children and the hopes for them he had,
The sweetness of his daughter, and
the mischief in the lad;
The schooling he would give them,
and he proudly let me see
Their pictures, which he carried.

Like my own they seemed to be.
There was one the Lord had taken
... and his sigh was honest stuff.
So I couldn't keep from saying:
"And they've told me you are tough!"

Oh, there seems no doubt about it, troubles small and troubles great

Can be met with understanding, but they grow if met with hate.
Let the gossips go unheeded. It is only harm they do.

Get to know the other fellow and to learn his point of view.

Since we all must live together, be our stations what they may.
How in peace to work together we can surely find the way.

FAIRFIELD FIRE COMPANY WILL REPEAT BAZAAR

Fairfield's fire company—with the snow keeping most folks away from last week's attempt to hold a midwinter fair—is planning, weather permitting, to repeat this Friday and Saturday night the bazaar that originally was scheduled for last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Roger Myers, secretary of the fire company and general chairman of the affair, said today that final decision on whether the program will be repeated this week-end will be made Thursday morning. If the weather looks at all favorable, he added, an all-out advertising campaign is planned to let everybody know that there will be fun and frolic at Fairfield Friday and Saturday nights.

Despite the blizzard last weekend, the firemen "kept the faith" for those who might come by holding the bazaar on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. About 200 attended on each of the evenings.

Dinners are to be held Friday and Saturday nights, if this week's program goes through as scheduled.
Myers said today. Round and square dancing will be conducted both nights with Prof. Sterbinsky and his Emmitsburg Rhythm Boys providing the music.

C. B. Turner is chairman of the dinner portion of the programs assisted by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the fire company. Harold Brown and Wilbert Fleming are in charge of games, S. L. Allison and H. L. Weikert are in charge of entertainment and D. H. Neely heads the bingo committee. Mr. Turner is also in charge of advertising for the event.

Believe Winter Damage Is Light

Adverse conditions prevailed for winter grains and grass seedlings on Pennsylvania farms during January, but stands seemed to be holding up well with little winter kill reported to February 1, the state Department of Agriculture announced following surveys.

Mild temperatures of late January caused fruit growers concern as some buds began to swell prematurely, the department said. A few sugar maple trees were tapped, and some plowing was done in both northern and southern Pennsylvania counties.

See Bigger Demand For State Turkeys

Turkeys are now being sold out into quarters and consumer demand can be expected to increase steadily for even smaller pieces of turkey meat, according to the bureau of markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

More Pennsylvania turkey meat is being canned and smoked this season than ever before, growers report to the Bureau.

For many years cut-up chicken has been sold commercially and in farmers' retail markets in all parts of Pennsylvania, the purchaser making his selection of legs, thighs, breasts and other cuts. One of the largest commercial cut-up-chicken plants in the United States is located in Lebanon County.

The consumer trend to smaller pieces of turkey results in part from declining prices for whole birds, it was explained. Between December 15 and January 15 the average price received by farmers for live turkeys declined from 44½ cents to 41 cents a pound.

Bluegrass Seed Short—Because
Kentucky bluegrass seed is short, other grasses, some of which give even better grazing throughout the season, will be substituted on many farms, according to J. B. E. Dickey, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Keep Hens on Full Feed—Keeping hens on full feed is the best assurance against winter egg slumps.

CORN WAS TOPS IN THIS STATE

On the basis of total value, corn once more was "tops" among Pennsylvania farm crops in 1946, the State Department of Agriculture announces from final federal-state production surveys.

One of the largest ever grown in Pennsylvania, the 1946 corn crop of nearly 60,000,000 bushels, worth an average of $1.65 a bushel, had a total value of slightly less than $98,000,000. Corn was grown last year on 1,380,000 acres. Yield averaged 43 bushels per acre, making each acre worth $70.95, the survey disclosed. Total value of the 1945
corn crop was about $92,700,000, leading all other crops that year.

Although highest in acreage, all hay in 1946 took second place in value, the crop of 3,804,000 tons being valued at $64,668,000, nearly 10 million less than the 1945 crop which was only slightly larger in volume. Value per acre in 1946 was $25.47.

Third place in value of 1946 Pennsylvania farm crops was all wheat, the total production of 19,912,000 bushels being worth $39,426,000 or $44.45 per acre. Potatoes were next in total value, 20,066,000 bushels valued at nearly $30,100,000 or $237
per acre.

Fifth place in total value was the 30,033,000 bushel oats crop at slightly more than $27,000.00 or $31.95 per acre. A better-than-average commercial apple crop of 9,360,000 bushels is given sixth place in value, $24,336,000.

Stresses Home Gardens—Since
home gardens afford the two big inducements of reducing the cost of living and improving the diet, the chances are that most of the gardens which were grown during peak wartime operations, and again

last year to relieve food shortages, will be resumed again in 1947, according to Walter B. Nissley, extension garden specialist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Motor vehicle accidents accounted for 28,600 deaths in the United States in 1945.

COMMITTEES GIVEN FOR HOME TALENT SHOW

Committees for the stage production, "Smilin' Through" to be presented by the Arendtsville fire company March 7 and 8 at the high school in Arendtsville were announced today by officials of the fire company.

Russell Kane and John Raffensperger are members of the stage committee while Clifford Hartzell, Jacob Herman and Roy Hartzell are in charge of the lights. Myles Dear-dorff and Leroy Zeigler are in charge of publicity and Mr. Dear-dorff also heads the ticket sale committee. Members of that committee include Arnold Orner, Alton Wierman, John Stover, Arthur Dear-dorff, Harvey Raffensperger, Fred McDannell, Paul Beamer, Paul Hartman and Edwin Schlusser.

Ed Rice Is Directing
In addition to Messrs Kane and Raffensperger other members of the Stage committee include Earl Staub, Lewis Bosserman, Harry Trostle, John McAllister and Myles Trimmer. Those in charge of ticket sales and collections at the door will be Eugene Tuckey, Eugene Pitzer, Ira Flickinger, Otho Carey, Emory Fissel and Dale Hartzell.

Edwin A. Rice is director for the play which involves a story with a 50-year span, from 1864 to 1914. His assistant in the direction of the play is Martha Boyer.

Twelve Arendtsville residents have the parts in the play. They include Walter Frederick, Ralph Cooley, Clyde Allison, Ernest Rebert, Mrs. Martha Lower, Mrs. Richard Trostle, Mrs. Richard Slaybaugh, John Stover, Ronald Baltzley, Ned Walter, Dorothy Allison and Mrs. Howard Sharkey.

Red Squill for Rats—Fortified Red Squill gives good winter rat control, according to J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist of the Pennsylvania State college.

The population of England in 1801 was 9,000,000.

FARM CALENDAR

Treat Seed Oats—Treating seed of blight susceptible varieties of oats is not a cure-all, although in some cases has given increases in yields up to 50 per cent above yields from untreated seed. Fungi causing leaf blight and blight live from year to year on the seed and on refuse in the soil.

Water Evergreens—Evergreens need water, even in winter, to prevent browning of needles later on, says A. O. Rasmussen, extension ornamental horticulturist of the Pennsylvania State college. He suggests early ordering from nurseries since stocks are short.

Keep Drains Open—Place a screen over tile drainage outlets and avoid possible trouble from wildlife entering these openings.

Point Contour Stakes—A bundle of stakes at one end for driving into the ground is the only material needed for laying out contour strips, say extension agronomists.

Give Calves Vitamin D—If hay which the calves eat lacks sufficient vitamin D, add irradiated yeast to the grain ration to make up the deficiency, Penn State experts say.

Order Fruit Trees Now—The supply of fruit trees is short, and to avoid possible disappointment immediate ordering of needed stock is imperative, warns John U. Ruef, extension fruit specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Choose varieties for which consumers show a definite preference, he advises.

Identify Calves—To eliminate confusion later on, R. H. Olmstead, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, emphasizes the need for proper identification of calves, particularly those produced from artificial breeding. Use of calf identification books and ear tags is urged.

SEEK 'CHICKEN OF TOMORROW'
Pennsylvania poultry breeders have organized for participation this year in a nation-wide contest to develop a chicken capable of putting on meat faster on less feed than any other type or breed now known. It is an effort to breed "The Chicken of Tomorrow" and more than 1,000 Pennsylvania poultrymen are to be asked by a Statewide committee to participate in this, the second year of a 3-year program, according to E. J. Lawless, Jr., in charge of the poultry and egg division, bureau of markets, state department of agriculture and acting secretary of the poultrymen's committee.

Those eligible to enter the contest, in addition to established poultry breeders, include members of 4-H

SAYS TREES PAY GOOD INTEREST
Richard L. Dolton, farm forester at Mont Alto, said today, "trees can pay better interest than a bank."

"How?" Well, let us use an imaginary tree. We will say the tree is 10 inches in diameter at breast height, or at four and one-half feet from the ground.

"Let us suppose that lumber trees or sawlogs are worth $10 per thousand feet on the stump. This is more than you get for some trees, and much less than you can get for others. But may be used as an average. Now, when you cut the ten inch tree at that price, allowing for slabs and other mill waste along with the cost of cutting, bucking, and hauling, that 10-inch tree is worth 20 cents as it is on the stump at the $10 rate.

"But if the tree grows six years, and is a thrifty tree, the tree ought to be about 12 inches across and worth 58 cents at the $10 rate. If it grows 12 years, the diameter will be about 14 inches, and the tree worth $1.08, and so on up the scale.

"Now if you stop at 12 years and figure the interest, you will find it about 36 per cent. No bank pays that. In other words, if you add 36 per cent, or between seven and eight cents each year to the present 20 cent value of the tree, it will amount to about $1.08 in 12 years.

"Of course, that's a perfect tree, suitable to grow into a high quality sawlog. There are many trees which will never make good sawlogs, and it may pay to cut them fairly young for pulpwood or other purposes. Also, you will want to thin your lumber trees as they get bigger. With the help of your farm forester, you can keep a good crop of high value, thrifty growing sawlog trees that may reach 18 to 24 inches or over. You'll have a fine paying investment, better than money in the bank."

$40 Houses For Vets Advocated
Harrisburg, Feb. 26 (AP)—State aid "to build 100,000 new homes for rent and purchase by veterans at $40 monthly maximum" is advocated by the Communist party of Pennsylvania.

The party, which claims a membership of 4,500 in the Commonwealth, set forward the proposal in a statement following a meeting of a 15-member legislative committee here yesterday.

GAME LICENSES MAY COST MORE IF BILLS PASS

Harrisburg, Feb. 26 (AP)—Pennsylvania's sportsmen are going to have to dig a bit deeper in their jeans for the price of a hunting and fishing license if some of the bills now before the state Legislature are passed.

Nearly 20 bills affecting sportsmen have been introduced in the General Assembly, and close to half would raise the price of fishing and hunting licenses.

But going to the other extreme, at least five legislators have advanced proposals favoring free lifetime fishing licenses for men and women who have reached 65, while two others would provide free fishing licenses to disabled veterans of any war, whose disability consists of the loss of one or more limbs.

Several of the legislators who have submitted bills, increasing costs of licenses, have specified that a certain portion of the added revenue be used for improving Commonwealth fishing and hunting facilities.

For instance, a bill introduced by Rep. Arty Riley (R-Lycoming), would boost the fishing license fee from $1.50 to $2, setting aside at least 20 cents from each license for "stream clearance and for conducting experiments in research to determine approved methods of controlling stream pollution."

Fishing licenses now cost residents of the state $1.50 annually and they pay $2 for hunting licenses.

Michael Demech (R-Luzerne), who is sponsoring a bill to increase the hunting license to $3 (non-residents would pay $2.50 instead of the current $1.50), provides that all of the new revenue would be used to stock game lands.

And Demech, who would boost the fishing license to $2.25, stipulates that the extra 75 cents "be used exclusively for the purposes of propagation, distribution of fish and the stocking of waters."

Ray W. Greenwood (R-Wyoming), would remove the closed seasons of the woodchuck in a bill he has introduced in the House, while Rep. Harold G. Wescott (R-Susquehanna), is sponsoring a bill to permit fox hunting at any time.

Third Victim Of Exhaust Gas Dies

Jersey Shore, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—The third occupant of a car found parked near here Monday filled with carbon monoxide fumes died late yesterday at the Jersey Shore hospital.

Dr. Clarence Martin, Lycoming county coroner, said Miss Maizie Rauch, 18, of Rauchtown, died without gaining consciousness. He said death was due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

The car was found with the motor running not far from the Antes Fort Station of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Pronounced dead shortly after the car was discovered were Cora Weishans, 16, of Rauchtown, and John Lee Hill, 21, of Antes Fort. Dr. Martin said both died from carbon monoxide poisoning.

The fourth occupant of the car, Richard Bower, 16, is in critical condition, Dr. Martin said.

LONG HEARING NEARS AN END

Pittsburgh, Feb. 26 (AP)—Taking of testimony in a contempt of court proceeding against the Weirton Steel Corp., under way for more than two years, drew near its close today.

Thomas E. Millsop, president of Weirton Steel and vice president of its parent company, National Steel Corp., was called as the firm's last rebuttal witness in the hearing before special master Drayton Heard, acting for the third U. S. Court of Appeals at Philadelphia.

J. Stuart Williamson, Weirton vice president in charge of operations, said yesterday that during the CIO organization drive at Weirton, W. Va., 100 mill hands were excused from their regular duties and held in readiness to be deputized under Sheriff Richard Wright.

This was done, Williamson said, because Sheriff Wright told the company his "small force of deputies" might not be able to cope with trouble should it occur.

The hearing before Heard began March 19, 1945, and testimony has filled approximately 26,500 pages of court record.

Labor Is Opposed To Recent Bills

Harrisburg, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor has declared itself strongly opposed to recent labor bills introduced into the state Legislature.

One of the bills, introduced by Rep. G. G. Goff (R-Beaver), would establish a 145-day "cooling off" period before strikes could be called, while another bill proposed by Sen. A. Evans Kephart (R-Phila.), would limit initiation fees of unions to $25.

James L. McDevitt, president of the AFL-State Federation, said of the Goff measure: "that's worse than anything proposed in Washington. We are against compulsion in principle."

McDevitt also declared unions would oppose any measure to limit fees.

Harry Boyer, president of the CIO-Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council, said "we are unalterably opposed to restrictive labor legislation and feel that the Goff bill is not the approach to the solution of labor relation problems."

Report Increase In College Facilities

Harrisburg, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Department of Public Instruction reported today that Pennsylvania's colleges and universities increased their capacity this year from 75,000 to 109,500 students, leaving only 3,500 assigned to emergency area college centers.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of the department, said in a statement that through cooperation of the commonwealth's institutions of higher learning and establishment of area college centers provision was made for every veteran and non-veteran seeking an education.

He issued the statement after receiving a report from Dr. Robert M. Steele, president of California State Teachers' college and coordinator for the college center program set up last fall to arrange educational facilities for World War II veterans and other students seeking a college education.

Originally, Dr. Steele reported, the total capacity of the colleges and universities of the state was placed at 63,000 but that was increased to 75,000.

Jailbreakers Get Long Pen Sentences

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—Sentences of 12½ to 25 years in Western penitentiary were meted out here yesterday to two men who escaped from Crawford county jail Saturday for two days of freedom before their recapture on a farm near Jefferson, Ohio.

One of them, Robert Gibbs, 21, of R. D. 2, Conneaut Lake, Pa., collapsed a few minutes after sentence was passed and was treated in the jail infirmary. He had been convicted of larceny.

The other prisoner, Glenn Ralph Brink, 41, of Hartstown, Pa., was convicted of forgery. Both had been in jail, awaiting sentence, when they escaped.

FELL THRU ICE, 3 BOYS DROWN

Passaic, N. J., Feb. 26 (AP)—Eyewitnesses who helplessly watched three youngsters drown in the ice-choked Passaic river credited the boys today with showing gallantry to the last.

"Don't come any nearer," one boy was said to have called to men of the "human chain" that sought futilely to rescue them yesterday. "The ice is cracking. We're going under. You'll go too."

After one boy had slipped beneath the frigid waters, spectators lining the banks saw another trying to hold up his remaining companion, a Negro boy. Weakening, the white boy lost his hold and both disappeared.

Bodies of Theodore Hunter, 10, the Negro boy, and John Kowal, Jr., 10, were recovered a few hours after the accident yesterday. Search was resumed today for the body of the third boy. Police said they believed he was Richard Kowal, 9, a cousin of John.

The "human chain" of policemen, firemen and volunteers was only a few feet from the spot where the boys broke through the ice when the last two boys, chilled and exhausted, were unable to hold longer to the jagged ice.

All three victims lived in Passaic. The boys were believed to have been crossing the 250-foot-wide stream from the Wallington side of the river to Passaic when the ice gave way.

CHILD SUFFOCATES

Leucadia, Calif., Feb. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Edward Fehrens, noting smoke pouring from the back seat of the family car, finally succeeded in extinguishing the blaze with buckets of water. Only then did she discover her two-year-old son, Douglas, suffocated on the car floor. Deputy Coroner Lloyd Jones said the child apparently started the fire, playing with matches.

NEW TWIST TO USSR RELATIONS

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP)—Russia's out-of-the-blue endorsement of United States trusteeship over Pacific islands once ruled by Japan provided an unexpected new twist today to Soviet-American relations.

Moscow's note saying Russia deems it entirely fair for United States to keep control of the 623-odd islands left diplomatic authorities guessing whether there might be more behind the move than meets the eye.

They hoped it forecasts improved prospects for a European peace settlement at next month's Moscow conference of the Big Four Foreign Ministers. But because of the almost unbroken series of recent disagreements between Washington and Moscow they privately were wary of a possible diplomatic maneuver.

Secretary of State Marshall kept his own counsel in announcing the Soviet action yesterday. He declined comment on a reporter's suggestion that Russia might be trying to set a precedent to justify her own postwar land acquisitions.

Tokyo dispatches today, however, mentioned immediate but unofficial suspicions that the Soviet Union to justify her own postwar land might be trying to bargain for extended influence in East Asia.

Some Japanese, the dispatches said, saw in Russian references to American sacrifices in capturing the islands an attempt to insure that former Japanese industrial equipment taken from Manchuria would not be included in the total reparations assessments against Japan. The Russians already have cited their "sacrifices" in the Manchurian campaign.

ZHDANOV GIVES UP HIGH OFFICE

London, Feb. 26 (AP)—Because of the "pressure of work connected with his main duties," the Moscow radio says Col. Gen. Andrei Aleksandrovich Zhdanov, often mentioned as a possible successor to Prime Minister Stalin, has been relieved of his post as chairman of the Council of the Union of the Supreme Soviet at his own request.

The council of the union is the smaller of the two houses of Russia's parliament. There was no immediate indication as to the significance of the action. The Moscow radio broadcast only bare details last night.

Zhdanov is secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist party, chairman of the Allied Control commission for Finland, and a member of the Politburo, inner council of the Soviet government. He was unanimously elected chairman of the council of the union last March 12.

Zhdanov, who is 51 years old today, was the hero of the 29-month siege of Leningrad by the Germans. Long a leader of that city's Communist party, he led the long resistance which helped turn the tide against the invasion.

He recently has been a leading figure in the Russian drive to purge Soviet literature and art of tendencies to stray from ideological aims and signed decrees intended to end abuses of the collective farm system last fall.

TWO KILLED BY GAS

Wilkinsburg, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—Carbon monoxide poisoning killed 75-year-old Walter K. Elder, tax collector of Wilkinsburg for 23 years, and his wife, Etta, yesterday at their home. Police said the fumes came from a gas heater, the flue of which was clogged.

DIES OF EXPOSURE

On Bots, Pa., Feb. 25 (AP)—Frostbite and shock, after his collapse in the snow 50 feet from his home, caused the death of William Devlin, 69, in a hospital here yesterday. Neighbors heard Devlin's cries shortly before dawn and found him lying in the snow, half frozen.

SAYS GOP LEADS TO AMERICANISM

Philadelphia, Feb. 26 (AP)—America's businessmen and workers must strike out at "subversionists" in order to keep the country "safe, sound, solvent and secure," says Joseph W. Martin, Jr., speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives.

The Massachusetts Republican told the 38th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association last night that subversionists seek to "destroy our American system of government, economy and society" by setting up "a centralized government, with a false form of constitutionality, and the heart and purpose of a Communist or Fascistic despotism."

Martin advocated this seven-point GOP congressional program that will lead to "real Americanism":

- (1) Stop Communism or Fascism and restore Americanism, (2) stimulate greatly increased production at lower prices, (3) encourage healthy business activity free from constant political attack, (4) achieve a basis for industrial harmony under fair laws requiring equal responsibility between labor and management, (5) effect economies and reduce waste in the Federal government, (6) begin a program of debt retirement, (7) free the individual from excessive taxation and governmental interference.

Earlier, Rep. Fred R. Harley, Jr. (R-N. J.), chairman of the House committee on education and labor, predicted that labor unions will be subjected to strict Federal controls by amendments to the National Labor Relations act.

BRAKEMAN CRUSHED

Lock Haven, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—A railroad brakeman was crushed to death Monday night when he was wedged between a wall and a moving box car of a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad. Mrs. W. J. Shoemaker, Clinton county coroner, identified the victim as Charles Edward Reeder, 31, of Lock Haven. She said death was caused by a crushed chest and internal injuries.

Guild Publishing Camden Free Press

Camden, N. J., Feb. 26 (AP)—Publication of the Camden Free Press by the CIO-American Newspaper guild—six days a week, morning and afternoon—begins today.

Charles E. Crissey, guild representatives, said the paper will be prepared by a staff of 150 employees of the suspended Camden Courier and Post "as a public service." It will be printed in the plant of the Wilmington (Del.) Sunday Star and will sell for three cents a copy.

Camden has been without a daily newspaper since publisher J. David Stern announced suspension and sale of his papers to the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Note Slight Drop In Price Of Food

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP)—Retail food prices declined 1.1 per cent between mid-December and mid-January but remained 41 per cent higher than a year ago, the bureau of labor statistics reported today.

The latest index stands at 183.8 per cent of the 1935-1939 average—2 per cent below the record high of mid-November and 26 per cent above the mid-June level.

Sharp drops in the retail prices of butter, eggs, citrus fruits and juices, lard, cured pork and poultry were accompanied by advances for vegetables, meats, except cured pork, cereals and bakery products, and beverages.

Gunmen Routed, One Believed Hit

Pittsburgh, Feb. 26 (AP)—Three gunmen, one of them probably wounded by a police bullet, were sought today after the third holdup in less than two months at the north side office of the Western Union Telegraph Co.

The men made their getaway after Patrolman Ira Palmer, doing guard duty on a balcony at the office, exchanged pistol shots with them. Palmer said he believed he wounded one man.

The robbers obtained $25 from the office manager but were driven off before they could loot the safe.

Last Thursday three gunmen obtained $682 at the office and on January 6 two robbers took $300.

Gas on Stomach

Relieved in 5 minutes or double your money back. When gases stomach acid causes painful, uncomfortable, sour, and heartburn, SSS Tonic usually relieves the trouble in 5 minutes. No laxative. No harmful effects. No loss of appetite. No loss of weight. No loss of sleep. No loss of energy. No loss of vitality. No loss of health. No loss of happiness. No loss of anything. SSS Tonic is the answer to the housing problem of one veteran, Charles Wilson, 26. He and his wife, Catherine, 24, were ready today to receive guests in the former station, now a snug bungalow after months of work by Wilson and his in-laws. The 27-by-17-foot building has three rooms and bath.

SCHOOLMEN TO

of there are no qualified teachers to teach them."

Bush, pointing out that "I don't know of any school board that is if there are no qualified teachers not agreed that teachers should get higher pay," added "but the problem is where to get the money." He suggested that the township, borough and city school systems be abolished and that the school systems be set up on a county wide basis. "In that way more efficient operation could be assured and the youngsters in each district would get the same educa- tion. Now youngsters in the larger schools are getting more in the way of education than those in the smaller districts and it does not seem to be fair. In addition, by hav- ing one purchasing agent instead of thirty or forty in a county great savings could be made in the con- duct of the school."

Prisoner Expense

Leslie V. Stock, principal of the Biglerville schools, told the group that Adams county during 1946 spent $32,832 on the people it main- tained in prisons or penal institu- tions. "There were an average of 34 people per month in penal or juvenile institutions and 34 per day in the county jail," Stock said. "As a result the county paid $37.31 per month for each individual it main- tained in a penal institution. At the same time it paid less than $10 per month for each individual in school. Think what excellent educa- tion could be given if the county spent as much on its children as it does on its prisoners!"

Teacher Shortage

"Not only is the county school system losing teachers because of its low salary scale, but fewer young people are taking up teaching as a profession," Doctor Keefeauver said. "Shippensburg State Teachers' college which supplies most of the county's elementary teachers, has less than 100 students which will not be enough to supply Adams county alone."

"At present," Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools, added, "there are 25 teach- ers in Adams county who have never been trained as teachers and are operating on emergency certificates—because the county has been unable to hire trained teachers."

Bills are now before the Pennsylv- ania Legislature asking for in- creased subsidies by the state to the school system, which would permit higher salaries for the teachers, C. P. Keefe, president of the school- men's group said. In the resolution passed by the group, it was decided to join with the county Gettysburg PSEA joint legislative committee in seeking to enlist the aid of local organizations such as the Rotary, Lions, women's organizations, service groups and the like in urging that the bills be passed. One method of in- teresting the "lay" groups will be to provide speakers for programs to be conducted by the organiza- tions if they wish such service to tell of the situation in education at the present time, Stock said.

EARTH TO THE MOON

By Jules Verne

AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 23

The influence of these attractions scarcely lasted an hour; the travel- ers felt themselves insensibly drawn toward the floor, and Barbicane fancied that the conical end of the projectile was varying a little from its normal direction toward the moon. By an inverse motion the base was approaching first; the lunar attraction was prevailing over the terrestrial; the fall toward the moon was beginning, almost imperceptibly as yet, but by degrees the attractive force would become stronger, the fall would be more decided, the pro- jectile, drawn by its base, would turn its cone to the earth, and fall with ever-increasing speed on to the sur- face of the Selenite continent; their destination would then be attained. Now nothing could prevent the suc- cess of their enterprise, and Nichol- and Michel Ardan shared Barbicane's joy.

Then they chatted of all the phenomena which had astonished them one after the other, particu- larly the neutralization of the laws of weight. Michel Ardan, always en- thusiastic, drew conclusions which were purely fanciful.

"Ah, my worthy friends," he ex- claimed, "what progress we should make if on earth we could throw off some of that weight, some of that chain which binds us to her, it would be the prisoner set at liberty; no more fatigue of either arms or legs. Or, if it is true that in order to fly on the earth's surface, to keep one- self suspended in the air merely by the play of the muscles, there re- quires a strength a hundred and fifty times greater than that which we possess, a simple act of volition, a caprice, would bear us into space, if attraction did not exist."

"Just so," said Nichol, smiling; "if we could succeed in suppressing weight as they suppress pain by anaesthesia, that would change the face of modern society!"

"Yes," cried Michel, full of his subject, "destroy weight, and no more burdens!"

"Well said," replied Barbicane; "but if nothing had any weight, nothing would keep in its place, not even your hat on your head, worthy Michel; nor your house, whose stones only adhere by weight; not a boat, whose stability on the water is caused only by weight; not even the ocean, whose waves would no longer be equalized, not even the atmos- phere, whose atoms, being no longer held in their places, would disperse in space!"

"That is tiresome," retorted Michel; "nothing like these matter- of-fact people for bringing one back to the bare reality."

"But console yourself, Michel," continued Barbicane, "for if no orb exists from whence all laws of weight are banished, you are at least going to visit one where it is much less than on the earth."

"The moon?"

"Yes, the moon, on whose surface objects weigh six times less than on the earth, a phenomenon easy to prove."

"And we shall feel it?" asked Michel.

"Evidently, as two hundred pounds will only weigh thirty pounds on the surface of the moon."

"And our muscular strength will not diminish?"

"Not at all; instead of jumping one yard high, you will rise eighteen feet high."

"But we shall be regular Hercu- les in the moon!" exclaimed Michel.

"Yes," replied Nichol; "for if the height of the Selenites is in propor- tion to the density of their globe, they will be scarcely a foot high."

"Lilliputians!" ejaculated Michel; "I shall play the part of Gulliver. We are going to realize the fable of the giants. This is the advantage of leaving one's own planet and over- running the solar world."

The projectile was perceptibly nearing the moon, and evidently succumbed to her influence to a certain degree; though its own veloc- ity also drew it in an oblique direc- tion. From these conflicting influ- ences resulted a line which might be- come a tangent. But it was certain that the projectile would not fall directly on the moon; for its lower part, by reason of its weight, ought to be turned toward her.

Barbicane's uneasiness increased as he saw his projectile resist the influence of gravitation. The Un- known was opening before him, the Unknown in interplanetary space. The man of science thought he had foreseen the only three hypotheses, possible—the return to the earth, the return to the moon, or stagnation on the neutral line and here a fourth hypothesis, big with all the terrors of the Infinite, surged up inopportu- nely.

"So we have become diverted from our route," said Michel; "but why?"

"Curse be the thing that has

And, as if a light had suddenly broken in upon his mind, Barbicane answered, "Then cursed be the meteor which crossed our path."

"What?" said Michel Ardan.

"What do you mean?" exclaimed Nichol.

"I mean," said Barbicane in a de- cided tone, "I mean that our devia- tion is owing solely to our meeting with this erring body."

"But it did not even brush us as it passed," said Michel.

"What does that matter? Its mass, compared to that of our projectile, was enormous, and its attraction was enough to influence our course."

"So little?" cried Nichol.

"Yes, Nichol; but however little it might be," replied Barbicane, "in a distance of 84,000 leagues, it wanted no more to make us miss the moon."

READJUSTMENT IN WHOLE WAY OF BRITISH LIFE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The new battle of Britain—this time economic—received fresh impetus yesterday when 1,000,000 employees streamed back into factories in the Midlands, thereby breaking a country-wide industrial blackout which had lasted a fortnight because of the disastrous shortage in coal production—life blood of the nation.

Some 4,000,000 workers remained idle in other parts of England. But coal was moving in appreciable quantities again.

Last Friday Britain's Socialist government, defying the bad luck which the superstitious attribute to the sixth day of the week, appealed to the already austerily-weary nation for further sacrifices in an all-out effort to meet the economic crisis threatening the foundations of John Bull's way of life.

Call To Arms

It was a call to arms equalled in our time only by the immortal declaration of Winston Churchill in the black days of May, '40: "I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat." Indeed, Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard said that the present government "offers the British people toil, tears and sweat. Blood alone they are spared in these piping days of peace."

That was a blunt but accurate way of summing up a situation without precedent in modern English history. Britain is fighting for her life. Britain's position, as I see it, is due to the fact that it isn't a self-sustaining nation. The country has almost no natural resources excepting coal. It achieved economic might largely by the simple expedient of importing raw materials, fabricating them and re-exporting them at a tidy profit, in English ships. This was accompanied by the creation of great banking and insurance businesses, and the favorable geographical location of the British Isles was of vast assistance.

However, times have changed greatly since the turn of the century.

The corollary to this would seem to be that John Bull is faced with the problem of readjusting his entire economic structure—his whole way of life. We are witnessing a major transformation.

New Oxford

New Oxford — The local Girl Scout troop is making preparations to mark Parents' Night with a dinner served at the Lutheran church rooms on Monday, March 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard U. Smith, who were married February 15 and have been honeymooning at the Grand Canyon of Pennsylvania, will make their home at their newly purchased property near "Seven Hundred" in this section. Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Zillah M. Pope, Spring Grove.

Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haar, near here, was recently tendered a birthday party at the home of her parents. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haar, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shank, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bosserman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Moul, the Misses Jean Haar, Mary Haar, Barbara Shank, Jean Bosserman, Grace Elaine Bosserman, Fern E. Moul, Mary Myers and Grace Myers, with H. Edgar Moul, Clair Haar, Ralph Staub, and Clair Myers. In celebration of her birthday Joan was presented with a pet lamb by her parents.

The Rev. George E. Sheffer, pastor of the First Lutheran church, has scheduled a special service each Wednesday during Lent at 7:30 p. m. Charles L. Eicholtz is able to be about after a recent attack of illness.

Strike Of Teachers Goes On In Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 26 (AP)—The Independent Buffalo Teachers Federation, in its third day of a school paralyzing strike, today called upon city officials to abandon "party politics" and consider the "welfare of the children and the preservation of the schools."

Federation President Raymond J. Ast also criticized in a statement what he called blame shifting by city officials.

In Albany, meanwhile, Republican administration sources indicated that today's scheduled report of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's special education committee on a new teacher salary plan would be postponed until tomorrow or Friday. On the report, according to Republican Mayor Bernard J. Dowd, rests the city's hopes for funds to grant raises to teachers and other city employees.

The strikers are asking a $2,400-$4,000 salary scale, compared with a $1,875-$2,975 overall scale now in effect. The strike has closed 78 of the city's 98 schools. Nearly 2,500 of 2,960 teachers are participating.

'Dollar Bacon' And Pork Chops Near

Chicago, Feb. 26 (AP)—A pork chop soon may cost $1.00 a pound at retail butcher shops as a result of the sharp advance in prices for live hogs in recent weeks, an agriculture department meat specialist said today.

"Dollar bacon" also was seen as a possibility as pork-on-the-hoof soared to all time record prices in the nation's markets. Live hogs sold yesterday at a top of $29.00 a hundred pounds at Chicago.

Russ Jeter, wholesale market analyst for the Agriculture department, said that prices of pork in wholesale markets were being marked up in line with the live hog advances. He said these increase should reach consumers later this week.

Your Income Tax Return

(Editor's note: This is the third of 12 stories explaining who must do what about his income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP)—Who can use form W-2, with the withholding statement, in making his 1946 income tax return?

Form W-2 is the receipt given an employee by his boss for the tax withheld from his wages or salary in 1946.

Full tax is supposed to have been withheld from all regular wages and salaries up to $5,000.

You can use form W-2 if your income was under $5,000 and came entirely from wages or salary from which the tax was withheld.

But—suppose, in addition to your regular wages or salary, you had income from which no tax was withheld.

List Exceptions

You, too, can use form W-2 but only:

If the additional income was no more than $100 and came from interest, dividends, or wages from which no tax was withheld, provided the total income still was under $5,000.

You could not use form W-2 if—in addition to regular wages or salary—you had any income from things like rent, professional fees, or annuities, no matter how small.

In such a case—any income at all from rents, or professional fees, or annuities—you use the 1040 short-form, if your total income was under $5,000. (Anyone with $5,000 or more income, from any source, must use the 1040 long-form.)

Combined Returns

What of husbands and wives? Can they make a combined return on form W-2? Yes—

1. If their combined income, from which tax was regularly withheld, was under $5,000.

2. And if any additional income—from interest, dividends, or wages from which tax was not withheld—was not more than $100, and the total income for both was under $5,000.

Suppose the combined salary of yourself and wife was $5,000 or more but individually was under $5,000.

You could file separate returns on form W-2, but not a joint one, since the combined income was $5,000 or more.

Some States Differ

Or—you could file a joint return on the 1040 long-form, which is for income of $5,000 or more. (In this case you couldn't file a joint return on the 1040 short-form which is for total income under $5,000.)

Husbands and wives can't file separately on form W-2 in the nine community property states of Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Washington.

They can file separately on the 1040 short-form, if their individual salaries are under $5,000.

If you know that your deductions—for things like medical bills and charitable contributions—are more than 10 per cent of your income, don't use form W-2. You'll lose money.

No Deductions

In such a case use the 1040 long-form where you'll have to itemize your deductions but can take full credit for them, even though using the long-form means figuring your own tax.

There's no place on form W-2 for listing deductions. You don't have to because a standard reduction of 10 per cent for everyone using form W-2 was allowed for in the tax withheld during the year.

That's why—if your deductible expenses actually were more than 10 per cent—you should use the 1040 long-form.

Thursday: Filling out form W-2.

LABOR DISPUTE LAWS OFFERED

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—Legislation that would require compulsory collective bargaining in labor disputes and a "cooling off" period up to 145 days before a strike could be called has been introduced in Pennsylvania's General Assembly.

The measure, providing for fines of up to $50,000, calls for temporary use of anti-strike injunctions and a mandatory arbitration procedure.

The bill specifically says it does not intend "to deny the right to strike to employees but to delay the use of such right for a limited period of time."

Introduced by Rep. G. G. Goff (R-Beaver) in the state House of Representatives, the bill calls for these steps in a labor dispute:

Compulsory negotiation for 60 days, with notification of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board within 30 days of a list of settled and unsettled demands and remaining points of difference.

Certification of employees by a secret majority vote that they wish to strike.

After the 60 days of negotiations, certification to the common pleas court within five days that a dispute existed.

Another 10 days for the court to issue an order for either party to show cause why a seven-man board of arbitration trustees should not be appointed, with 20 more days allowed for either party to answer the show-cause writ.

Canon City, Colo., (AP)—Things looked rosy for James O. Maxey with hogs hitting $30 a hundredweight and his sow with a litter of 11 pigs. Then the sow electrocuted itself by chewing through the insulation on the electric brooder. Maxey is trying to save the pigs by farming them out to neighbors to feed by bottle.

NEW FATHER SUICIDES
Philadelphia, Feb. 26 (AP)—Edward Powers, 32-year-old mechanic, ended his life by gas while his wife waited at a hospital for him to take her and their child home. Patrolman Norman Canada reported today. Canada said Powers left no explanation for his act.

TO ALL WHO WANT TO SEND FOOD TO EUROPE

The American Bankers' Association has endorsed the non-profit organization CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe) as an ideal channel for sending food packages to war-devastated Europe.

CARE, of which General William N. Haskell is executive director and Donald M. Nelson is honorary president, offers a package containing a wide variety of substantial foods (40,000 calories) plus a reliable and rapid method of delivery to people in certain European countries. This package, including delivery, costs $10. CARE, organized by 24 relief agencies, has been personally endorsed by President Truman.

We shall be glad to handle your remittances to a specified person or general charity.
